

FRV Travel – Villa Manis

Edition 11.1 - June – July 2014

BALI VILLA

Sweet As Villa
Manis

LOOKING OUT OVER THE LUSH NEIGHBOURING RICE FIELDS AND OUT TO THE SEA IN THE SLEEPY RURAL VILLAGE OF PERERENAN JUST NORTH OF CANGGU ON BALI'S SOUTHWEST COAST, IT'S NOT HARD TO SEE HOW THE OWNERS OF VILLA MANIS CAME TO FALL IN LOVE WITH THE AREA AND BUILD THEIR DREAM HOME ON THIS SPOT.

A family home before it became a holiday rental, the eight-bedroom Villa Manis is warm and literally embracing, with all four buildings having been laid out around the lovely pool. Hardwood floors, art and antiques and soft comfortable furnishings abound inside, while outside lies perfectly manicured lawns and gardens filled with mature frangipani trees, palms and fish ponds.

© 2013 Phaid

THE VILLA IS LOADED WITH FACILITIES TO SUIT ALL TASTES FROM THE MANIC TO THE SEDATE.

A villa of this size will always find a way to accommodate more large groups of families and friends and wherever permutations of adults and children that may arise. The bedrooms are all en-suite and four of them are set up with mini-hotel configurations, proving the villa popular with families, but these can be converted to open beds for adults more easily. There are four sofa beds in the other four rooms to make up the bed for one last.

Special attention must be made of the master suite which takes up the entire top floor of the main house and features a massive dressing chamber with access from the bed to one well-appointed hallway with desk, table, chairs and more space. The en-suite bathroom is decked out with a jacuzzi tub, leather ottomans and chairs and is bigger than an inner city apartment.

There'll never be much for things to do since the villa is loaded with facilities to suit all tastes from the manic to the sedate, with a gym or spa out of the question and the spa at the other end. And for the resident there's much more in house, with a media room and an iPod TV, two swimming pools (there's a shallow pool for kids), a library of books and magazines and three lounge areas where to read them - one indoor, two outdoor, including one with a screen and bar attached.

Apart from all that talk and whistles at the cuff that make the Bali villa holiday stand out from the crowd, and Villa Manis' team, including a villa manager, chef, security and garden staff, guide themselves on going the extra mile to make your stay a most remarkable one indeed.

www.villamanis.com

Phaid says: "The villa is a great mix of modern and traditional Bali architecture. The interior is a blend of modern and traditional Bali architecture. The exterior is a blend of modern and traditional Bali architecture." © 2013 Phaid Ltd

Sweet as Villa Manis

Looking out over the lush neighbouring rice fields and out to the sea in the sleepy rural village of Pererenan just north of Canggu on Bali's southwest coast, it's not hard to see how the owners of Villa Manis came to fall in love with the area and build their dream home on this spot.

A family home before it became a holiday rental, the eight bedroom Villa Manis is warm and literally embracing, with all four buildings having been laid out around the lovely large garden and swimming pool. Hardwood floors, art and antiques and soft comfortable furnishings abound inside, while outside lies perfectly manicured lawns and gardens filled with mature frangipani trees, palms and fish ponds.

A villa of this size will always find a way to accommodate most larger groups of families and friends and whatever permutations of adults and children that may arise. The bedrooms are all en-suite and four of them are set up with twin bed configuration, proving the villa's popularity with families, but these can be converted to queen beds for adults soon enough. There are four sofa beds in the other four rooms to take up the slack for extra kids.

Special mention must be made of the master suite which takes up the entire top floor of the main house and features a massive sleeping chamber with ocean views from the bed, its own wrap-around balcony with daybed, tables, chairs and more views. The en-suite bathroom is decked out with a jacuzzi tub, leather sofas and chairs and is bigger than an inner city apartment.

You'll never be stuck for things to do since the villa is loaded with facilities to suit all tastes from the manic to the sedate, with a gym at one end of the spectrum and the spa at the other. And for the moderate there's much more in between with a media room and its 60" TV, two swimming pools (there's a shallow pool for kids) a library of books and magazines and three lounge areas where to read them - one indoor, two outdoor, including one with a jacuzzi and bar attached.

Apart from all the bells and whistles it's the staff that make the Bali villa holiday stand out from the crowd, and Villa Manis' team, including a villa manager, driver, security and private chef, pride themselves on going the extra mile to make your stay a most memorable one indeed.

www.VillaManis.com